

Dear parents,

I am sure that by now you will have either seen or read about Boris Johnson's announcement on Saturday regarding England entering into a four week lockdown from Thursday 5th November.

One very positive and significant difference from the first lockdown is that the government has recognised the importance of keeping early years settings and schools open throughout this period so that we can continue to care for, develop and protect your most prized possessions.

The Monkey Puzzle network has worked hard following the initial lockdown to provide safe places for your children to be, establishing robust control measures and process to protect you, your children and all staff. We are in communication with early years stakeholders so that we can be proactive and respond quickly to any changes in the current environment.

Monkey Puzzle remains a great place for your child to be, with the benefits of a national brand working with key early years stakeholders allied to nursery ownership by franchisees dedicated and focussed on providing the best local care for your children. We know that this model gives you the best of both worlds and enables us to be nimble during times of significant change and also able to provide strong oversight.

As always, if you have any questions, please contact your nursery directly, or feel free to contact us at head office on 01442 878887.

We continue to be delighted to look after your children and wish for you to remain safe and well.

Kind regards
Richard Blunden
